Extensive Program Manual Included with Your Registration!

Autism, Asperger's, NLD & Related Conditions: An Advanced Look at Current Trends, designed specifically for this program by Dr. John Ortiz, will be provided to each registrant at sign-in.

Purpose

Since the initial appearance of Asperger's (Disorder) in the Diagnostic Statistical Manual (DSM-IV,1994) a wealth of information on this once obscure and fascinating topic has been brought to light. Although the now ten-year old Text Revision (DSM-IV-TR - 2000) attempted to clarify Asperger's Syndrome, along with other pervasive developmental conditions, little progress was made in expanding our understanding of autism spectrum conditions. The goal of this advanced workshop is to start where the DSM-IV-TR stopped, and bring you up to date on current and developing notions regarding high functioning autism, Asperger's (Disorder), Nonverbal Learning Disorder (NLD), and Disorders of Sensory Integration (DSI/SID). Drawing from emerging scientific research findings, anecdotal observations, and clinical case studies we will examine and discuss the many traits, types, and characteristics that contribute to the interweaving tapestries, which define and differentiate these populations.

Presenter

JOHN M. ORTIZ, PhD, is the director and founder of The Asperger's Syndrome Institute and The Institute of Applied Psychomusicology®. A licensed psychologist, consultant, musician, composer, certified clinical hypnotist and psycho-educational trainer, he is listed in the National Register of Health Service Providers in Psychology. Dr. Ortiz's work with Asperger's Syndrome, Autism Spectrum Disorders and NLD takes an integral, strength-based approach emphasizing socio-cultural, neuro-biological, and developmental influences, as well as cognitive, behavioral and affective components.

His publications include the books: Asperger, Autism and Non-Verbal Learning Disorder: Screening, Assessing and Diagnosing (2008); The Gifts of Asperger; My Kitty Catsberger; the best-selling The Tao of Music: Sound Psychology; and Nurturing Your Child with Music; and audio CDs The Soothing Pulse®, Turning Daydreams to Dreams, and It's Sleepy Time! Dr. Ortiz is an active member of various professional organizations including the American Psychological Association and the American Music Therapy Association. Dr. Ortiz earned his PhD from Penn State University, MS from Nova University, and BS from Virginia Commonwealth University.
